pictured here in a previous issue and from the inside in this one. Along the right is the bus ramp. Immense parking areas are at the back and on the east side. Basketball fans should have no trouble finding parking space this year.

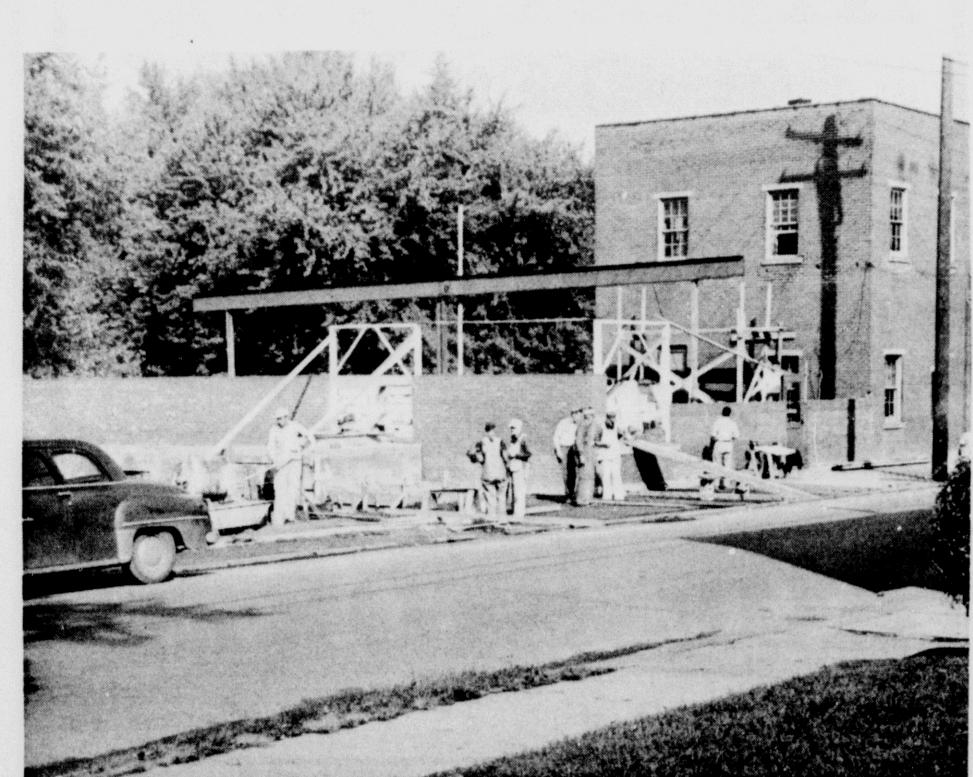

LARGE KITCHEN. To serve a big student body, now about 1060, a modern kitchen is in the making at Beatty school. It is located on the north side of the well lighted dining room. The million dollar addition will be ready for use later in the current school year.

LIGHT MEALS can be enjoyed fully in this large dining room, half of which is surrounded by expansive windows. It is at the southwest corner of the new Beatty school addition.

PROTECTION FOR PUPILS who will be bussed to Beatty will be afforded by this long ramp. Several busses will be able to stop there at one time.

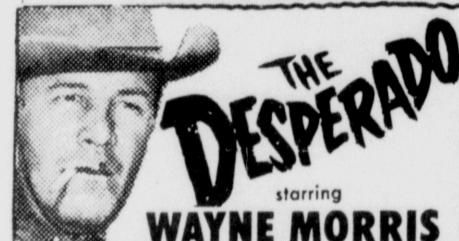

PROVIDING NEEDED SPACE. Work is progressing rapidly on the Pennsylvania Gas Co. addition to their Conewango ave. warehouse and garage. Word from D. E. Conaway, vice president, reveals that fifty percent more space will be provided for the basement garage and the street level warehouse by the new portion of the building which is scheduled for completion by November 1.

GLENZEL SCORES. Back of those shoving Rockets and directly over the pay stripe is Warren's Jim Glenzel. The officials signaled a score and the Dragons were only one touchdown away from the lead. But it ended there, 19 to 13.

Proof of Residence has been fairly well established by Lowlaw's Grocery through a card campaign this week. When it was inferred that petitioners for a zoning change to allow a new Loblaw grocery on Fourth ave. were not from Warren, the signers were contacted and asked to send cards to their councilmen. On the cards they wrote their names and addresses. The percentage of return was amazing, one councilman receiving over forty cards early the first day.

COUNTY NEWS in brief . . .

A Head-On Collision was responsible for taking the life of Norman W. Matha, 30, of 323 Hickory st., Warren, and seriously injuring M. F. Emerson of 306 Beech st., Warren Saturday night on route 62. Matha was apparently traveling south in a Ford sedan, owned by a Jamestown resident, which police alleged had been taken from Brooklyn sq. earlier the same evening. Emerson was on his way to pick up some children at the Russell skating rink. The collision took place about five miles north of the Borough line.

Mr. Emerson was given emergency treatment in the Warren General Hospital and transferred to Hamot Hospital in Erie the next morning for specialized treatments.

"Greetings" from The President were received by eight area men who will leave Warren on October 5 for induction into the army at New Cumberland reception center the following day. They are: Robert W. Blair, leader, Raynold Cheronis, Donald L. Cummings, Jr., Glenn H. Farr, Stanley M. Johnson, Robert S. Olson and Robert J. Swanson of Warren with Kenneth B. Schuler of Warren, R. D.

Charged With Rape, two Jamestown men were brought before Judge Alexander C. Flick, Tuesday. Robert L. Watson pleaded not guilty and will be charged before the grand jury on November 1. Robert L. Raymond pleaded guilty and will be sentenced on an undisclosed date. Both were charged with forcing a 12 year old Warren county girl into their car the evening of June 26 or the morning of June 27, and assaulting her in a secluded spot between Tidioute and Torpedo.

Bruised and Skinned, but not seriously injured, Janice Decker, 15, of Clarendon Heights was taken to her home following an accident at the corner of Second ave. and Pennsylvania ave. Tuesday afternoon. Frank Bruno of Tiona, operator of the car in which Miss Decker was riding, reported that the right door opened while turning the corner and the girl fell to the pavement.

Sleeping at the Wheel caused Lewis L. McCollough, who was traveling east on Pennsylvania ave., Saturday at 5 a. m., to cross the highway in front of Struthers Wells Co. office, flatten a No Parking sign and shear off a telephone pole. Damage to the vehicle amounted to $400 but Mr. McCollough escaped without injuries.

Jaycees Of Warren, Earl Abel, Jr., president; William Houston, state director; Ed Ryberg and Allen Anderson, vice presidents; and Anthony Casalo, secretary of the newly-formed Ridgway chapter; attended a district meeting of the organization which was held at the Hotel Drake, Titusville, Sunday afternoon. Carl Reed, district governor, of Erie presided over the meeting. Robert Curtis, state executive vice president, was the principal speaker.

Diplomas Were Presented to Raymond Anderson, Charles Barerde, Raymond Brewster, William Burd, Roger Heeter, and Laddie Neel at the Warren State Hospital for successfully completing a two-year training course as psychiatric technicians. In addition to on-the-job training during this period, the graduates had five hundred hours of classroom instruction, which included lectures, demonstrations, written examinations and individual project assignments. This is the second class conducted in a program, believed to be the most thorough and intensive in the nation, which was originated in 1950. President Jack Henry announced that a Credit Union will be established at the next meeting of Local 469.

Yum Yum Yum. The first general meeting of the newly-organized F.H.A. unit in Warren high school was held Tuesday, September 28 under the supervision of its officers, President Genevieve Gnagy, Vice president Susie Clepper, Secretary Sally Hartwell and Treasurer Lois Hornstrom. The girls plan on an eventual membership of one hundred. Their program plans are based on state suggestions and include an apple dessert contest to be staged in October.

Gold Star Mothers were honored by Chief Cornplanter American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 135, Tuesday evening in the legion home. Mrs. Frances Ramsey, representing the Warren County historical society, captured the interest of her audience with the incidents which she related dealing with the early days of Warren County. The speaker revealed that the organization was formed many years ago but remained inactive until they acquired the Clemens' collection, a valuable addition to the records of the region. Special emphasis was given to family records and Mrs. Ramsey suggested that biographies of soldiers of both World Wars may be of great significance to the society in the future.

Mrs. A. W. Larson, president, and Mrs. Guy Albaugh, secretary, will attend a conference of officers which will be held in Harrisburg this week end. A committee composed of Mrs. Hazel Witz, chairman, Mrs. Janet Dahler, Mrs. Eunice Buerkle, Mrs. Florence Edwards, Mrs. Mable Bisson, Mrs. Billie McDowell and Mrs. Joyce Rohlin, was responsible for the dinner. Retiring president, Mrs. Alan Buerkle, presented a gift to the local chapter of Gold Star Mothers which was accepted by Mrs. J. Ray Shepard.

Want A Promotion? An analysis of the over one hundred registrations which were received Monday evening for night school instructions, indicates that more practical business training is preferred to subjects relating to avocations. The greatest number signed for typing and shorthand, both beginning and advanced, which will be taught by Misses Hawkins and Evans. A course on petroleum refining will be offered and an attempt will be made to secure an instructor from Pennsylvania State University to conduct the class. Both beginning and advanced courses on oil painting will be supervised by Mr. Spence.

Many listed their interest in metal shop work, lip reading, office machines and bookkeeping and homemaking but more students are needed to make the courses available. Those interested in registering for any course should call Mr. Passaro at 2461 by Friday, October 1.

Any subject which is included in the curriculum of the day school will be provided if at least twenty persons signify interest enough to register. The classes will be held on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p. m. in the high school.

Rates Up. The board of directors of the Warren General Hospital announced this week that rates for private rooms with toilet facilities will be increased two dollars per day while other rates remain the same. The move was made to encourage patients to use semi-private rooms in order to facilitate more accommodations.

The "Y" Program for the fall and winter seasons was carefully planned at a dinner-meeting held at the YWCA, Monday, under the supervision of S. Knox Harper, chairman of the physical department committee. Sub-committees were named as follows: handball -

Fran Morris and Dan Morse; volleyball - Richard Betts and Rev. Robert Knapp; basketball - a committee headed by Myron Jewell. The volleyball season will open Monday, October 11.

Temporary arrangements were announced for supervision of current gym and swim classes until a physical director is secured to replace Mr. Pfuhl. Paul Steinkamp will handle beginners at 4 on Wednesdays and 9:30 Saturdays; cadet II Tuesdays at 3:45 and Saturdays at 10:30; juniors at 3:45 p. m. on Mondays and Fridays. Harry Tourtellott will conduct the older boys program at 7:00 on Wednesdays and Fridays. Mr. Anderson will be responsible for high school and Beaty swims on Mondays and Fridays.

The Warren Boy Choir Parents reorganization meeting was held Tuesday evening in the choir rooms. An election of officers resulted in the following selections: Harry Rosequist, president; Dr. T. K. Larson, vice president; Kenneth Greenlund, secretary; M. Giltnan, treasurer; Dr. Arthur O'Connor, Myron Jewell, Max Saunders, Harold Baker and Joseph Krimmel were named to the board of directors.

Director Byron Swanson announced plans for a concert to be presented in Youngstown, Ohio and revealed that a "repeat" on the spring concert will be given in the local high school early in November.

A letter of resignation from Business Manager John Powley was read. Mr. Powley consented to act in an advisory capacity but advised that he could no longer accept the responsibilities of the position.

DIFFICULT CHOICE. Seventeen judges found it difficult to choose the Northwestern Pennsylvania Livestock Queen from the group of beauties (pictured above) who were entered from schools throughout this area. After much deliberation, Fay Weiss, Fairview, was selected as Queen and Carole Lee Bradshaw, Saegertown, Janet Comstock, Union City, Jean Cummings, McKean and Betty Vanderhoff, Spartansburg, were picked to complete the court.

The contest was held at the Wattsburg fair grounds on September 23, with the judging starting at 9 a. m. A thrilling day was thoroughly enjoyed by all the participants which included a tour of Boston store in Erie, and riding in convertibles as part of the livestock parade which was televised.

Roosevelt Power Grows

By Doris Fleeson

NEW YORK. -- The same New York city leaders who refused to support Franklin Roosevelt for governor implored him to take a place on the ticket to strengthen the ticket and unify the party.

He preferred to run for attorney general rather than lieutenant governor for several reasons. Under a new state statute, governor and lieutenant governor are lumped together on the ballot; a citizen votes for them as one man. The attorney general has a separate line of his own.

Roosevelt liked, too, the greater power and independence of the attorney general's post. It will afford him scope for his legal and administrative talents and also opportunities to champion his upstate supporters.

It was his rather wry opinion that the spectacle of a Roosevelt taking one of the lesser posts on the ticket might help banish the "prima donna" argument against him. At the very least the city leaders can no longer accuse him of being a maverick.

The curbstone opinion at the convention was that Roosevelt would get a big "bullet vote" and be elected, no matter what happened to Averell Harriman. The leaders were still protecting Harriman from the comparison at the final convention session. Roosevelt wanted to make a speech accepting the nomination for attorney general but they vetoed him, having already noticed that he got by far the greater hand as the candidates entered the hall.

It is, of course, possible that Roosevelt's upstate supporters, now flattened by the big city steamroller, will retaliate by cutting the top of the ticket in order to swell his majority. However, the big Roosevelt appeal is to the masses who don't split their tickets but go down the line in their voting.

Actually it is quite possible that Roosevelt himself will be cut in suburban areas where the Democrats who became prosperous under the New Deal have showed signs of acquiring Republican habits of voting. Such groups will go for Harriman, the serious and experienced banker, but may shy away from a Roosevelt.

The party rank and file can be expected to feel that Roosevelt won his D for Democrat letter by his convention actions. It is now not believed that he will be cut in the greater city.

Undeniably New York Democrats are not entering the new campaign with any spontaneous optimism. Up to the end, efforts went on to draft Mayor Wagner for governor, the final appeal to him taking place during the parade of the Roosevelt standards at the convention itself.

It is cynically whispered that the city leaders have made a deal with Thomas E. Dewey to allow G.O.P. state control so long as they are left alone in the city. It is said that ward leaders here prefer a Republican scapegoat in Albany for the failures of the Democratic City Hall.

It was one of the "old pros" of the party - Harry S. Truman - who inspired young Roosevelt to take his destiny in his own hands in recent weeks.

About a month ago intense pressure was generated to get Roosevelt out of the race. Every possible appeal was made to him and he was told, too, that the national Democratic leaders including Truman had absolutely vetoed him with Tammany Leader Carmine DeSapio, who is now national committeeman.

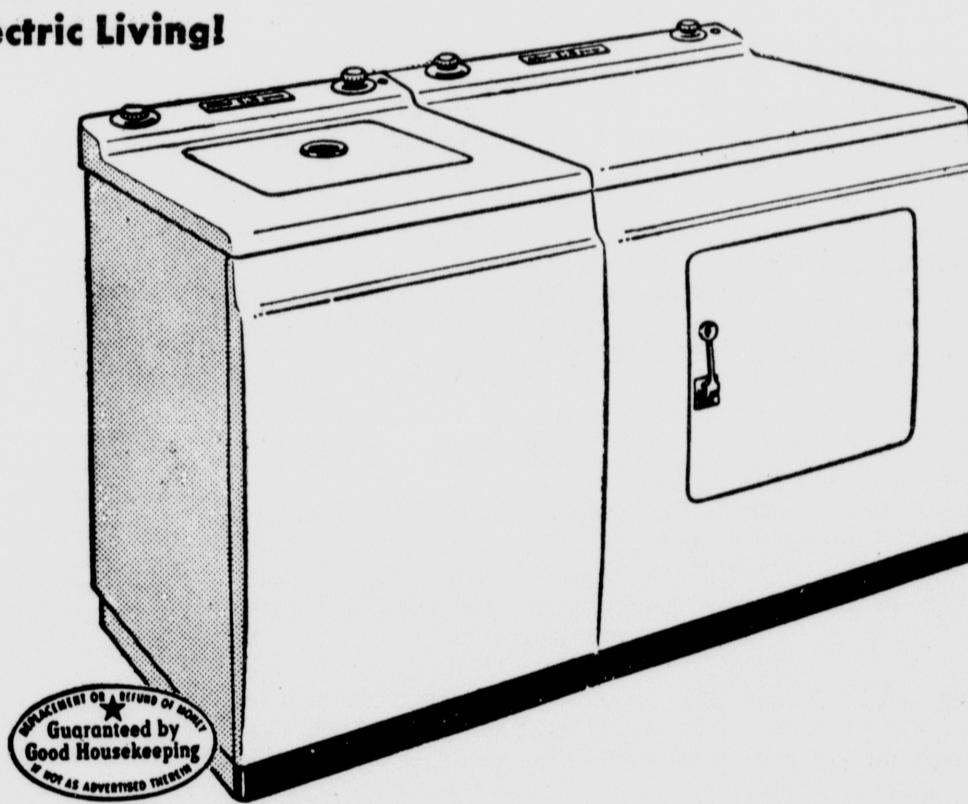

Roger Tubby, of the Roosevelt staff, was formerly Truman's press secretary and he decided to get at the truth. So he paid a visit to his old boss at Independence, Mo.

Truman reviewed his ties of loyalty both to Roosevelt and to Harriman and said he was not participating in any way in the selection of a New York governor. He said he knew nothing of any other at-

Things to Come

Red Leaf Rally....One hundred to one hundred-fifty sports cars will participate in the Red Leaf Rally sponsored by the Auto Sports Club, Inc. of Warren, Pa. Sunday, October 3. The cars will leave Wilder Field and will travel on a course which will take them through the Allegheny National Forest. Contestants will receive charted routes a few minutes before departing and will follow these to an undisclosed destination. Drivers must attempt to maintain an average speed which will not exceed the speed limits and must not violate any motor vehicle law. There are various check points along the route and the time of arrival at each of these check points by each car is noted and sent by two-way radio to the finish line. Cup awards will go to the participants having the lowest number of penalty points, the team representing any other sports club having the lowest number, and to the team consisting of two women having the best score.

Hey! A Hoe-Down.....The Warren County Shrine Club Ladies Night committee has planned a Farmer and Farmerette Party for the ladies Wednesday, October 6, at the Pleasant Township Fire Hall. Blue jeans, plaid shirts, and gingham dresses will be the attire for the evening. An old fashioned chicken dinner served country style with all the trimmings will be served at 7 p. m., followed by dancing at 8:30 p. m. to the music of Ford Winner's orchestra. Bill Barr will call for the square dancing. Co-chairmen of the ladies night committee are Ed Johnson and Ken Williams.

* * *

Hillbilly Jamboree.....The Original Warren County Hillbilly Jamboree will resume tomorrow evening at the Pleasant Township Firehall under the sponsorship of the Pleasant Township Volunteer Firemen. A lunch bar will be operated by the Ladies Auxiliary and will be stocked with good things to eat.

Democratic Candidate To Speak Miss Genevieve Blatt, candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, will speak at a dinner meeting to be held at the Carver hotel, 6 p. m., Friday, October 8 and at an open-air meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. the same evening from a platform to be erected in front of the Warren Bank and Trust building.

Featured with Miss Blatt on the program of the campaign meeting, Richardson Dilworth, district attorney of Philadelphia, will deliver the principal address. Others introduced will be Fred C. Barr, candidate for Congress from the twenty-third district; Lewis L. Crippen, candidate for representative in the General Assembly from Warren County; and George M. O'Hora of Franklin, candidate for the state senate.

Come And Buy....The Building and Grounds Committee of the YWCA is holding a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, October 8, 9 in the gym of the YWCA. The sale will start at 9 p. m. each morning.

* * *

To Tour Forests....The YWCA is sponsoring for the public an Autumn Tour through the Tionesta National Forest Friday, October 15. The tour is open to thirty-eight people as only ten cars will be taking the trip under the guidance of two foresters, Mr. Sanheimer and Mr. Stotz. The cars will leave the "Y" at 9:30 a. m. and will return by 5 p. m. Each person must take his own lunch. Reservations may be made by calling 450.

E.U.B. Banquet....The Eighth Annual Men's Congress of the Evangelical United Brethren church will observe a Brotherhood banquet Friday, October 8 at 6:30 p. m. READY TO PERFORM. The Drum and Bugle Corps of Chief Cornplanter Post No. 135, the American Legion of Warren prepares for its first public appearance in the Grape Festival Parade at Northeast, Penna., on Saturday of this week. The corps has been making ready for this occasion all summer and expects to have a large following from Warren when the parade forms at 3:00 p. m. Judging from the interest in the practice sessions at the armory and Beaty field many local residents will be making the trek to the Grape City. Leading the Warren delegation will be Robert Lundberg, post commander, and George Coveney as drum major. Corps officers include Jack Barr, captain, and Alan Buerkle, business manager.

Cliff Briggs, Tom Offerle, Vic Carino, Vic Farrell, Ronald Massa, Gail Graham.

HAVE YOU
CONSIDERED
IN CHOOSING
HER RINGS?

In the happy future ahead, you and your bride may move to a larger home, own a bigger car...but the diamond bridal set you choose now will remain, forever and forever, the one lasting symbol of your love! These precious rings she will always wear...and then pass on to your children.

Does this mean that you must spend more than you can afford for a diamond of impressive size? Not at all. It does mean that you must choose carefully for beauty and quality that will last...for diamonds of exquisite color, purity and cut, guaranteed by a jeweler you can trust.

Every ring set in our stock is handpicked to meet all of these requirements. Whether you plan to spend much or little...we should welcome the chance to show you our selection.

BUYERS' CORNER

If you want to know how much money was available in Warren county last year for spending, the state's internal affairs department says 5,807 men and women were paid a little over twenty-one million dollars! This was a bit over a half million more than in 1952. We doubt if 1954 will compare so well.

The number of people employed decreased, due to a smaller number of women, who must have decided they were having it good enough to stay home. Sixty-two less women worked, but the number of men went up about forty.

At the same time we find the value of the industrial products in Warren county rising. And the rise was not small. It totalled nearly four million dollars! The actual value of products made in Warren county during 1953 was $74,540,500.

The part played by the county in this economical picture may be found in the value of products made outside of Warren. Warren accounted for about 53 million of that 74. The area outside of Warren produced about $21 million worth.

A communist looking at these figures probably wouldn't be happy until he came to the division of wages and salaries. Of the amount mentioned above, about $16 million went to 4,744 wage earners. The other $5,182,600 was paid to 1,063 men and women in salaries. About one-fourth of the people made one-third of the money. Let Malenkov make the most of it.

Design For Scholarships

If you are not under twelve nor more than nineteen and would like to learn how to design cars, you may learn so well that you will earn a scholarship. First you enroll in the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, by writing to that group at General Motors Building, Detroit 2, Michigan.

You will receive a booklet on model car design and construction. The best models built from these instructions and entered in the Guild competition will earn their makers scholarships, ranging from $4,000 down to $1,000, in each age group. And there also will be fourteen cash awards in each state, seven to a group, and totaling $70,000. The scholarships total $20,000.

What can you lose? You have fun designing cars and you may do so well that you make a winner. Over a million dollars have been distributed in this contest since 1930.

Where's Your Radio?

One of the many surveys constantly being made to decide how many sets are in operation discovered that there are more radios in cars than in any particular room or part of the American home. About 26 million cars have radios.

Next in line is the living room which has about 25 million radios. The bedroom comes next with 21 million, and the kitchen has 16 million. Though many of us dream of a den or study with a radio, only a million and a half have radios so situated. This we find difficult to believe. The dining rooms of the nation have about 4 1/2 million radios located for meal time distraction.

Though TV is comparatively new, it already has sets in over half the homes of the nation. Considering the problem of fringe reception and the need for stations in many areas, this is an indication of how rapidly this type of entertainment has moved in on radio.

About 45 million homes have radios. TV sets are in nearly 28 million homes. The harm done to radio commercial value is evident here, because it is quite probable that the homes in which TV sets are operating do not have radios on at the same time. Which suggests that at any one time more people probably are viewing TV sets than are listening to radio, despite the head start enjoyed by the hear-only medium.

Most homes with TV sets also have radios. But in eighty percent of such homes the sets are not in the same room. Either the family must split up or one set is not turned on. About 86 million radios either are not in the same room with TV sets or are in homes that do not have such sets.

It becomes obvious that the 28 million TV sets have eaten a large hole in the radio audience. Major advertisers reveal their knowledge of this fact by the checks they are writing for TV time.

Dragons Lose

The 19 to 13 defeat handed Coach Bell's boys at Titusville, Friday night, wasn't easy to take. The boys played hard-hitting football, and seemed to be almost the best team on the field, but enough trouble developed at strategic moments to change the tide.

It looked like the Don Mohney freight line most of the game, the Warren back lugging the leather on nearly every play, placing deception at a minimum, and taking much out of Mr. Mohney.

One razzle dazzle was attempted and it worked well, but other than that practically no plays were seen that would shake the fleet Mahafey loose out in the flat.

Warren's power plays worked well and probably would have won the game if Jack Shattuck had been able to don a uniform and share the pounding with Mohney. The boys started off in good form in the opening kick-off and were making good yardage until a wild pass from center set them back.

Titusville immediately took over and Warren was unable to solve the T plays. It looked like a rout coming up when a few plays later Robinson cashed in and Linnon kicked the point.

But Warren drove right back, powered to the five and with four downs to use looked very much in the ball game. A low pass from center was mishandled in the confusing glare of the Rocket lights and the Dragons were unable to make up the loss. Later in the half they pounded right back to the Titusville goal and were on the five again with four to go. They then scored but lost it on a penalty. The move back to the fifteen was too far to go in four against a Rocket line which poured through and stopped the Dragons on every play.

The Rockets scored in the third after Robinson ran the kick-off back to the Warren 28. It soon was on the two yard stripe and Cole busted over.

Warren then scored on a pass play from Jim Glenzel to John Powley who made a nice catch of a beautifully placed over the shoulder pass in the end zone.

But the Rockets made it tough by breaking Boo Linon loose on the Warren 42 and he went all the way for the clincher. Warren continually threatened but bogged down on several promising series, meanwhile tearing the Rocket T offense apart with its most aggressive defensive play of the year.

With time running out the boys finally got sufficiently close to drive Glenzel over long enough to convince officials, and the score was 19 to 13, where it stayed despite some fine passing by Glenzel who was greatly handicapped by rushing opponents and the lack of open receivers. The boy showed a cool head, refusing to throw the ball away when men were covered.

From the sidelines the Titusville boys, coached by Bob Lytle, of Warren, looked well conditioned and played a smashing game. They also played the cleanest we have observed to date.

This Friday the Warren boys probably will get back into the victory column when they journey to Oil City. For the first time since the opener they probably will be at full strength and the Oilers should not be tougher than anything met to date. They are expected to be equally as strong defensively and not as strong offensively as Titusville. With a few breaks Warren might win by about three touchdowns.

Area Football

Sheffield and Youngsville continue to build up for that annual classic, set for October 9, when they meet for their big one. Youngsville took Sugar Grove, 19 to 6, though observers thought the Eagles were lucky to win. Sheffield also continued undefeated, spanking St. Marys, 21 to 0.

This week Sheffield will have its homecoming game on Saturday and will play the Warren Reserves, who are substituting for Smethport. Smethport has cancelled its games because of a polio epidemic.

Youngsville goes to Saegertown, Friday night, and Northern Area visits Union City the same night.

Corry added another successive scalp, taking Millcreek, 19 to 6, which suggests quite a game coming up when Titusville and the Beavers meet.

Erie schools continued to be kicked around, New Castle beating Academy, 6 to 0, Beaver Falls taking East, 14 to 0, and in the city series, Prep and Vincent fought to a 6-6 tie.

Prep will run into a tough one Saturday night when it visits Jamestown. The Raiders beat Lackawana, 18 to 7, in their opener.

Meadville, which comes to Warren a week from Saturday, showed more of its power by walloping Franklin, 33 to 0. Kane topped Emporium, 27 to 7, Greenville beat Oil City, 39 to 13, Grove City beat Mercer, 26-0, DuBois which takes on Bradford this week, downed Clearfield, 32 to 7. Bradford edged by Hornell, 7 to 6.

Ellwood City got by Rochester, 13 to 6, Falconer took Fredonia, 26-7, Southwestern blanked Salamanca, 26-0.

Pro Games

If you prefer good football to baseball, even of world series calibre, there will be at least two games on view Sunday afternoon. The Browns will play the Champion Lions, at two, over channel 4, and the Eagles will meet the Cards at 4:45, over Pittsburgh and Buffalo WGR. Stanford will be seen against Illinois, Saturday at 4:45.

Speedster Sinks

Out of control went the Go Devil, piloted by Bill Yaeger, of Warren, in the New Martinsville regatta. The outboard then sank.

All Tied Up

The softball championship of Warren should be definitely settled on the West Side diamond, Saturday. After losing the first two games, the Texas team, winner of the second half, took a double header Saturday from the Merchants. The Industrial league finalists now will settle it with a single game, Saturday at four, on the West Side diamond.

Bill Brown got a round-tripper to break up the second game, as his Texas team won, 9 to 6. In the opener, Bob Harrison shut out the Merchants, 4 to 0, allowing only a pair of hits by Graham. Sorenson pitched 17 of the 18 innings for the Merchants. Perk Cameron was the other winning pitcher.

Golf Wind-Up

The Conewango Valley Country Club golfers wound it up Thursday with the final dinner and the awarding of prizes. Not already published in this column were the following winners: A tie between Dr. O'Connor and J. Bailey for seventh flight consolation, and Hans Link did not play off with Bob Voigt in the eighth consolation. Andy Paucek defeated Byron Knapp for the ninth flight honors, and Stu Beckley defeated Harry Barley in the consolation.

In the weekly golf tournament Harry Barley and Robert Blair were the low net marksmen at 34. Tied at 35 were Pete Juliano, Hans Link, Sam Rasmussen, Andy Paucek, and Dr. N. Kantor.

The ladies also had their final dinner, and in addition to the championship and flight winners already published awarded the following prizes: Greatest improvement, Mrs. Homer Culbertson; most goat matches won, Mrs. David Beatty and Mrs. W. O. Lawson, with Mrs. T. W. Fisher, second; low gross ringer, Mrs. Homer Culbertson, and low nets, Mrs. Robert Walsh, Mrs. Richard Costley, and Mrs. W. S. Walters. Low gross points went to Mrs. Lawson, and the low nets were Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Robert Alexander, and Mrs. Lyle Knapp.

Mrs. Andrew Paucek took the day's approaching contest, and tied in the putting contest were Mrs. H. L. Banghart, Mrs. W. O. Lawson, Mrs. Richard Costley, and Mrs. George Calderwood.

Two Bad Holes

cost Toby Lyons first money in a major event at Niagara Falls over the week end. He was only four strokes out of first place, despite a 9 and a 7 on the final day, one caused by an unplayable lie and the other contributed to by four putts. But he got $200 for third.

The Finale for competitive golf probably will be shot at Moon Brook, October 10, when the Western New York state amateur tournament will be staged. Golfers from most of this area are being invited.

The Annual Tournament of the U. S. Senior Golf association is being held this week in Rye, N. Y. From Warren are Mrs. H. L. Banghart, Mrs. David Beatty, Mrs. E. G. Hamilton, and Mrs. J. L. Blair.

LADY IN COLOR

The only regret I had when "Lady in the Dark" faded out and the screen reverted to its drab black and white was that the whole country could not have seen this one in color. There have been some good color shows before, but this was the finest one to come along yet.

This fourteen-year-old Moss Hart play with music, with its elaborate dream sequences, its ballets, its song and dance numbers, cries out for color, and Max Liebman, the producer, gave it color with an opulence and imagination and taste that have never been equaled on color TV. And the costume department ran amok providing Miss Ann Sothern with a magnificent array of gowns — she must have worn about twenty different dresses, each equipped with zippers which ran from neck to hem for forty-second changes. One lace job had a skirt of twenty-one different rainbow shades.

In playing Liza Elliott, Miss Sothern was following in the footsteps of two redoubtable actresses — Gertrude Lawrence, who originated the role on the stage, and Ginger Rogers, who did it in the movies. For tackling the job at all — she only consented because Liebman was going to do it — Miss S. gets the Crosby award for courage for this year.

I'm not going to do anything so odious as to compare her to either Miss Lawrence or Miss Rogers; I will only say that I don't think any other actress could have done a more splendid job of work. Of course, Liza Elliott is the dream part of all time.

Picture a role in which an actress is cast as a terribly successful career woman with three men of widely various types in love with her. In her dreams she's a glamour queen with dozens of men at her feet. She's asked to sing and to dance and to act all over the place. One minute she's a mature woman, getting on in years; the next minute, she's an adolescent school girl. She even gets to sing "Jenny," the girl who couldn't say no in twenty-seven languages, which is a fat part all in itself. The only thing Hart didn't include in the role is a high wire act, and I don't know how he happened to miss it.

The idea of building a play with music around the dreams of a woman in psychoanalysis is not quite as daring as it was fourteen years ago but it's still a hell of an ingenious notion. As psychiatry goes, it has always seemed to me that Liza Elliott's subconscious was a fairly elemental one, but I suppose anything more complicated would resist staging altogether.

I can't remember ninety minutes of TV which held together so tautly, keeping you glued there every second. There were many high moments. To pick out only a few: the opening dream sequence where Miss Sothern does a dance with a bunch of Columbus Ave. bums; the ballet with Bambi Lynn and Rod Alexander, which in color was incredibly beautiful, and the songs "Saga of Jenny" and "My Ship" sung by Miss Sothern. The only questionable moment I felt was the scene where Miss Elliott tells her cowboy suitor to get lost, which I considered a trifle peremptory. But then it was getting late and I guess they had to get on with it.

* * *

While Miss Sothern was altogether fine, some of her colleagues didn't measure up to the Broadway Cast. Carleton Carpenter as the fey photographer is no Danny Kaye — this was the role that precipitated Kaye to movie stardom — and Victor Mature was a lot more convincing cowboy star than Robert Fortier. However, James Daly as the guy who finally gets the girl was great.

Incidentally, Oldsmobile, which picked up the check on this, deserves a pat on the back for keeping its plugs short and tasteful. The final commercial, a view of a parade of Oldsmobiles about a mile long was eye-filling. Gee, I can remember way back when we had marching cigarettes. Now we get marching Oldsmobiles. Aah, progress!

OBSERVATIONS

By Bob Walsh

It is a touchy world! A man dies in Japan as the result of our hydrogen bomb tests and tempers rise to the headlines. The reaction of many Americans as they read these reports is one of anger. Look who is complaining about the death of one man!

It seems strange to many that those who sank a big share of our navy and killed many of our citizens in a sneak attack, not preceded ed by a formal declaration of war, but actually while peace talks were in progress between their envoys and our officials, should now become so aroused when we accidentally cause the death of a single Japanese.

There is much to be remembered and too little is forgotten. We fought because we were attacked. As far as the average American was concerned, he did not want a war, but he willingly went into uniform when he was asked. And from island to island our boys gave their blood and their lives to return the world to a state of peace.

It now becomes our problem to keep it that way. Unfortunately, the war speeded up the development of horrible weapons. And the atom bomb has led to the hydrogen specter. Many of us cannot help but feel that those who gave us Pearl Harbor are the ones to blame for this race in killing implements. We object to their crying when they suffer a small bit as the result.

But the reaction in Japan to the death of a man injured by American bomb experiments should tell us much that we must face. It reveals the hatred which lies beneath the alleged peace in Japan. The conquered can not be expected to love the conqueror.

It also drives home our unpopularity in Asia. The little good we have done there and the few friends we may find are mostly a credit to our missionaries. But we are not there primarily for the work of spreading the gospel. We are there because of trade, and we are there because of tin and rubber, vital materials in this world of economic and military competition.

Our friends, the French, British, and Dutch, also have been long in Asia. They call it colonialism, a name which covers the development of a backward country for the purpose of making money, usually with huge profits for the investors and small wages for the natives.

In the eyes of the Asians we have been a party to this practice, a supporter of those who reaped the harvests, and at the very best we are the wrong color. The white man is not considered a friend of the underprivileged in Asia.

But the communists who would make every man an equal sing a sweet song for the Asiatics. The pied piper from Moscow may lead the new generation along paths which will make Asia a power that the piper himself may regret.

And in the midst of this delicate situation we must at this late hour attempt to make friends. We go about this in strange ways, such as arming brothers to kill brothers, and by fighting alongside the colonialists.

We also talk of rearming the Japanese so that they will fight as our ally. Does not the temper of the Japanese, as shown by the fists which were shaken when one man died from hydrogen burns, tell us that this is folly?

We talk of unifying Germany and at the same time speak of a German army. Do we believe the Russians will allow unification if they believe an unfriendly military machine will develop there?

It also is argued that the Germans fear the communists more than they do us and for that reason will be on our side. Is it not possible that such is a good reason for their doing exactly the opposite?

Peace never will come to this world as long as the victor constantly allows the vanquished to rearm, and especially when such a step is supported so that another war may be fought. It is the method of the centuries and war has continued unabated.

Segregation DecisionA Major Step

The decision of the United States Supreme court which ended segregation of races in our public schools was a major step toward improving America's position as a world leader. Every move we make in this nation to equalize people under our flag takes a big punch out of the enemy's propaganda, of which he makes a great ado in Asiatic countries.

We liked the words of Chief Justice Earl Warren when he said for the court, "It will take much time and insight to make this law work; you cannot push it any faster than the mind and heart of man can move forward." This was his answer to those who would say you cannot legislate tolerance.

You can legislate tolerance! You may not be able to remove prejudices from the minds of many by a law, but you can establish a framework of freedom in which tolerance can develop.

There will be trouble in some areas at first, as there always is when freedom fights its way into the hearts of man. But as this and the next generation learns to live with itself and with each other, tolerance will come and the scales of prejudice will fall away, and we will see our neighbor not as a color but as a person, not unlike ourselves in the eyes of Him who created and will judge both.

It requires a very light reading of history to learn that few freedoms came easy, and that laws often were forced upon many to assure such freedoms. The elimination of segregation will have its rough spots, but it is amazing how most areas are accepting it with little in the way of organized trouble, and far less incidents than many anticipated.

Unfortunately we read in the headlines the stories of those places where the biggest objections are being raised. These make the front pages while thousands of communities which go about their business of a new way of living in comparative peace receive no attention at all.

Not only is this unfortunate for tolerance itself, but it also is embarrassing to a nation which is attempting to set an example for the world, a world which includes those millions of Asians who are considered colored people by most of us, and who are well aware of that fact.

As Charles A. Wells writes, "Democracy was on trial before the world as well as before the Supreme Court of the United States."

It still is, and it is a tragedy that a few narrow minds continue to feel so much higher and might-ier than the fellow across the tracks, a fellow they have kept there in his slums and whom they revile for a backwardness which has been created and maintained by those who look down their noses.

The world grows smaller. We must learn to live with many races. And they must learn to live with us. They cannot do this while subjugated. If we do not help free them they will throw off the chains in their own way and we will become the minority which suffers.

WHAT'S THE STORY ON HEARING AID TRADE-IN OFFERS?

You'll probably still pay more than the cost of the $125.00 Zenith 3-transistor Royal-T

Some dealers advertise a trade-in or allowance of from $50 to $100 on your present hearing aid towards the purchase of one of their transistor models. When you go to buy one, you'll find that they usually sell for $265.00, $270.00 and up to over $285.00 each! It's easy to offer a trade-in on a hearing aid that sells at such prices but...

LOOK AT THE FACTS

Suppose you are offered a trade-in of $100.00 on a $285.00 model. Figure it out... you're still paying $185.00 for the aid. Compare that to the $125.00 Zenith Royal-T. Quite a saving when you buy a Zenith. Here's another point. $125.00 buys you a new Zenith and you still have your old instrument for a "spare"—a higher priced hearing aid with a trade-in leaves you with only one hearing aid which still may have cost you more than the Zenith Royal-T.

Get the hearing help you want and save money at the same time. Prove to yourself what thousands of other Zenith users have proved... that you can't buy a better hearing aid than a Zenith at any price!

Farm Rebellion

By Thomas L. Stokes

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — This usually calm and sober-sided state is caught up in what might be called a "farm picnic rebellion." It is being skillfully exploited and directed by Senator Hubert Humphrey in his campaign for re-election in which, as of now, he seems assured of victory.

Not grimly, nor bitterly, but with frank and jovial approval, farmers are applauding attacks on Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson at farm picnics and political rallies. They nod agreement when stump orators of the Democratic-Farmer Labor party, led by Senator Humphrey, accuse President Eisenhower of going back on his promises to the farmers. It is something that could go far by Election Day.

The rebellion appears spotty as yet, breaking out more virulently in some areas than in others. Most resentment among farmers is found in the west-central and northwest corner of the state, a region of diversified farming, including wheat and beef cattle, and some dairying. This is attributed in part to the influence of the Farmers Union, which is strong there. It has been carrying on a vigorous fight against Secretary Benson and the Administration for substitution of flexible price supports for the former rigid 90 percent of parity guarantee.

In the real dairy belt, from middle to southeast Minnesota, farmers are taking the Administration's new farm program more stoically, though most antagonism might be expected in that region because of Secretary Benson's cut in dairy price supports. This is predominantly Farm Bureau Federation territory, in which, however, there has been Farmers Union infiltration in recent months. Southern Minnesota, a corn and hog area like adjoining Iowa, seems least disturbed.

To speak of Iowa, in discussing farm disaffection, is to recall the turbulence there back in the depression of the early 1930's, when corn was being burned for fuel and one judge who was foreclosing mortgages was being threatened with the noose. The director of that farm revolt was Milo Reno, leader of the "farm holiday" movement, as it was known.

The situation today is not comparable, of course, with farmers prosperous and actually rolling in wealth as compared with that other era. Senator Humphrey is only a pale Minnesota Milo Reno; but, with such farm discontent as he has to work with, he can be reported to be doing mighty fine.

He is rated well ahead of his Republican opponent for the Senate, Val Bjornson, two-term treasurer and former newspaperman, who was drafted to take on the Senator when others shied away. The Republican candidate is conducting largely a defensive campaign. He is not entirely satisfied with the farm program, but presents it as a good compromise and counsels patience and a fair trial of it. He chants the national Republican refrain that President Eisenhower needs a Republican Congress to finish his program. His difficulty in handling the farm issue is indicated by the fact that all of Minnesota's delegation in Congress, except Rep. Walter Judd of this city, voted against the Administration.

Mr. Bjornson, an able and well-liked figure, is learning that he is running against something else in Hubert Humphrey than an effective national legislator and a beguiling stump speaker. He is running against the good will that Senator Humphrey has built up for himself among the people of his state, including Republicans, by his tireless and detailed attention, through an energetic staff, to the problems of his constituents who call upon him for help of one sort and another. Many people will vote for Senator Humphrey, including Republicans, who don't care about his political philosophy, perhaps don't even know what it is. For them, the important thing is that he has done his homework.

For the last stretch of the campaign, the Democratic-Farmer Labor party got a big shot in the arm in the recent primary when, for the first time since the merger of the Democratic and Farmer-Labor parties ten years ago, their total vote ran ahead of the Republican vote. Their enthusiasm is not dimmed by the Republican explanation that this was due to several hot primary contests among Democrats that brought out the vote.

The big vote also caused some astute political reporters in this state to recast their judgments on contests for the House of Representatives. There appears a possibility now that Democrats might pick up one, two or even three seats now held by Republicans. Of three seats in the doubtful category, two are in the western part of the state where farm unrest is most widespread. The third doubtful district is in the south-central part of the state. The party division is now five Republicans and four Democrats in the House.

It does not appear probable, as DFL leaders hope, that Senator

Humphrey would be able to pull through with him the party's candidate for governor, Orville Freeman, 35-year-old lawyer who was defeated in his first try two years ago. Governor C. Elmer Anderson is a colorless figure beside the dynamic young Democratic candidate or in contrast with Senator Humphrey; but enough Minnesotans apparently like him to re-elect him in November.

FOOTBALL SPIRIT DEVELOPES
The snappy band of the Northern Area joint school added to the festivities as over fifteen hundred fans attended the game at Sugar Grove last week. Director Albert Lyford conducts the band which is composed of Connie Lohnes, Louise Carlberg, Ruth Ann Carlson, Melinda Lyford, Marilyn Miller, Beverly Stanton, Raymond Stanton, William Allenson, Ronald VanOrd, Stephanie Carlson, Larry Ludwick, Doris Lindell, Carolyn Allenson, Bruce Swanson, Ronald Webster, Clifford Rapp, Tommy Nobbs and Kenneth Atkins. There is really nothing like a band to develop the proper football spirit.

HONORED at the Rural Letter Carriers meeting October 18 were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stuart, of Sugar Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCloskey, of Tidioute. Mr. Stuart and Mr. McCloskey are charter members of the 50-year old Warren county association.

The gathering marked the observation of the 50th anniversary of the Warren County Rural Letter Carriers Association and two of the original charter members, Joseph E. McCloskey, of Tidioute, and Scott Stuart, of Sugar Grove, were present with their wives.

Mr. McCloskey, who is 85 years old, was the first rural carrier in Tidioute, and served his route in the tradition of the U. S. Mail, from 1903 until 1934 when he was retired. Mr. Stuart, aged 81, was a Sugar Grove carrier from 1903 until 1936 when he, too, was retired.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McCloskey were very active in the early years of the association. Mrs. McCloskey is credited with organizing the auxiliary in Warren county and also many other units in counties throughout northwestern Pennsylvania. She was appointed, then later elected, to the office of treasurer when the state auxiliary was formed. Mr. McCloskey was prominent in the county organization and also held a state office, attended more than thirty state conventions and five national conventions.

In recognition of their contributions to the Warren County association, gold "retired member" pins were presented, Mr. Delmar Mickelson, of Sugar Grove, making the presentation to Mr. Stuart and Mr. McCloskey, and Mrs. Ray McIntosh, secretary of the county auxiliary, pinning on Mrs. McCloskey's gold pin. The auxiliary also presented corsages to Mrs. McCloskey and Mrs. Stuart and boutonnieres to their husbands.
